EPS TRANSACTION PROCEDURES

Once EPS POS terminals are installed, merchants can accept debit cards or credit cards with ATM functions issued by 20 EPS member banks. Operation flow as below:

Take a general assessment of the information printed on both sides of the card. Swipe card through the card reader.

Enter transaction amount. Cardholder confirms amount and chooses debit account (if more than one account).

Cardholder must enter PIN for all EPS transactions and input "ENTER".

Transaction completed and EPS receipt is printed with "ACCEPTED" for accepted transaction. Then, pass the EPS receipt and return the card to cardholder.

EPS RECEIPT SAMPLE

EPS receipts are printed out for all transactions conducted through EPS terminals. If it is a rejected transaction, a reject code and the reject reason will be stated on the EPS receipt.

Moreover, the EPS terminal also reprints receipts for account reconciliation, lists the total transaction amount and transaction records to help merchants increase operation efficiency.

CUP MERCHANT POINTS TO NOTE

How to prevent fraud

To examine all security features of CUP cards with care.

When performing CUP transactions, check whether the card number on the transaction receipt is exactly matched with the card number embossed on the card.

Beware of any abnormal behavior from cardholders, for example:

- Very casual when shopping or spending, without considering the goods selection or does not care about the price, just hoping to complete the transaction quickly.
- Visit the shops which sell valuables frequently for variety of luxury goods in a rush manner.
- Purchase in bulk order on high cost fashion items but no fitting trial is required.
- Cardholder is holding several CUP cards when performing transactions. When one card cannot be successfully processed, cardholder switches to another CUP card at once.
- If authorization cannot be obtained for the CUP transaction, cardholder may request merchant to separate all individual payment.
- In the process of signing, cardholder looks flustered and is always looking around.
- Cardholder has to look back the signature specimen on the card panel when signing on the receipt or his/her motion to sign is very slow.

Important notes to CUP Merchants

- Only successful CUP transaction sales receipts will be printed out.
- According to the requirements of the CUP, regardless of debit or credit card, the cardholder must sign on the sales slip. Cardholder's signature on the sales slip must be exactly matched with the signature on the back of his/her CUP card panel. CUP issuing bank may raise a chargeback if NO cardholder signature on the sales slips. If no cardholder's signature on the back of the card, the cardholder must sign immediately before any transaction to be processed. If cardholder refuses to sign on both the sales slip and the card panel on the back of the card, merchants can refuse to accept the transaction in order to avoid any potential financial losses.
- All CUP merchant sales receipts must be retained for not less than two years (from the transaction date). Merchants (all CUP Merchants, also applicable to terminated CUP Merchants) are required to hand in the CUP transaction receipts at a designated period of time if requested by EPS.
- CUP merchants are not allowed to impose extra transaction fee or refuse to accept CUP cards for any transactions under normal circumstances.
- Transaction limit cannot be laid down considerably before accepting CUP card transactions.
- No cash advance or refund can be made during CUP transactions processing.
- Authorization must be obtained through CUP terminal for each transaction.
- All CUP transactions including debit cards and credit cards must be a swipe card transaction.
- If the cardholder's identity or CUP card authenticity is in doubts, merchants should not accept the CUP cards for transactions.
- If merchant terminates EPS service contracts, service contracts of CUP will also be terminated.
- Due to the rigorousness of China UnionPay card verification, once any irregular CUP transactions are found, CUP Company at any time is entitled to refuse to pay the CUP merchants in whole or in part payment. If EPS Company has paid that irregular transactions and the timing of payments are within 180 days from the transaction date, EPS Company reserves the right at any time to claim immediate refund from the CUP merchants. CUP transaction slips must also be retained not less than two years for future checking purposes. Moreover, EPS Company also reserves the right at any circumstances which deem appropriate to receive a chargeback fee.
- If you have any questions, please call the China UnionPay 24-hour customer service hotline 800 967 222 or EPS hotline 2721 0566.

SECURITY TIPS

Proper EPS terminal management and usage

At all times, merchants must keep the terminal in a safe place, use it properly and treat it as your cash register.

- Both the terminal and PIN pad should be locked in a drawer when the cashier is away from the register or before the shop is closed.
- Ensure that if CCTV is installed in-store, it is not aimed at the terminal PIN pad when customer enters PIN. The CCTV recording tape should be kept for at least 1 month.
- No unauthorized parties are allowed to repair, maintain or take away the terminal.
- Reconfirm if terminal service has been arranged for the company and verify the identity of the terminal technician by checking his staff ID upon arrival.
- Check the terminal daily for any unusual device (e.g. skimmer) being attached and if there are any signs or traces of tampering. If in doubt, please call EPS Merchant Service Hotline at 2721 0566.
- If you are approached by any paper suppliers claimed to be representing from EPS Company, please take precaution to avoid any losses.

Note for performing EPS/CUP transactions

At all times, please follow our guidelines and steps for performing EPS transactions.

- When receiving a card presented by the cardholder, the merchant should make a general assessment of whether the information printed on the card is consistent with the cardholder (e.g. nationality, gender).
- Beware if any side of the card seems abnormal.
- The cashier should process payment with the customer witnessing the whole payment process, particularly with the card always in the customer's sight.
- Give the PIN pad to the customer when entering the PIN.
- The cashier should not look at the PIN pad while the customer is entering PIN. Also, the cashier should distract people from surrounding the customer while entering PIN.
- During the payment process, handle the card with care.
- CUP Merchant should keep the "Bank/Merchant Copy" of CUP transactions for at least 2 years. Merchants must present the receipts to EPS when requested.

TIPS

To ensure transaction accuracy, merchants shall perform day-end settlement to check the total number of transactions and the total amount of the terminal record against the EPS Company host system on a daily basis. Should any discrepancies occur, the merchant shall call EPS Company for verification.
